

ICEBREAKER

OBJECTIVE:

To allow all members to introduce themselves in a unique and fun manner.

MATERIALS:

One beach ball and at least ten participants.

PROCEDURE:

Have all the participants sit in a circle. Explain that the first person that has the ball must say their name then they will throw the ball to another person. Whoever catches the ball next must say their name and the name of the person that threw them the ball, and then they will throw the ball to the next person. The next person must say their name, the name of the first person and the person that threw them the ball.

Everyone will continue throwing the ball to various people in the circle until someone does not catch the ball or forgets a name. At that time, the game will start over.
